Kisses

They ride up the elevator with others in front.

Marko's hand brushes Henkka's. He looks away, eying business men in front chatting about politics.

Henkka's fingers trace the inside of Marko's hand, watching the floor numbers flash.

Marko links his fingers with Henkka's, a small smile playing on his lips.

Henkka watches the numbers climb higher and higher, but no one exits.

Marko pulls Henkka closer as he shuffles his feet, their hands still linked. He leans over and kisses Henkka on the lips.

The elevator dings and they pull away, grinning at each other as they exit the elevator.
